

Sally's Residential Care Home Provides First Rate Senior Living

At Sally's Residential Care Home, Camarillo residents benefit from a truly dedicated team of professionals that stand head and shoulders above the average assisted living facility. In fact, for over ten years, founders Sally and Kayhan Mojabi have worked to provide the best senior living experience at three licensed facilities that are linked together, and located in quiet neighborhoods in the sunny and beautiful Southern California area.

As state board certified registered nurses and owners, Sally and Kayhan Mojabi bring over 30 years of experience from acute, rehab, geropsych and hospital management positions – including years in geriatrics, to their position leading operations at Sally's Residential Care Home. Perhaps most importantly, they have also made it their mission to train their staff to provide the best in personal services and assistance, be it daily activities like dressing, bathing, personal hygiene and incontinent care, or emergency response and medication management.

In fact, at our distinguished, first-rate Camarillo nursing home, each resident is provided with an individualized plan of care, with in home visits always arranged with specialists like podiatrists, physical, occupational and speech therapists, and primary care physicians. Our staff will also dispense daily medications per physician's orders – and supervised by our registered nurses.

Though health is always a major consideration, we work to ensure the social lives of our residents are also stimulated, with holiday and birthday events, arts and crafts, bingo, daily walks and exercise and, much more offered on a regular basis. That's why, with Sally's Residential Care Home, the difference is always clear.
