

If you're seeking a truly top-notch residential care home, Camarillo is a great place to start. Not only is the Southern California area known for beautiful, sunny skies all year long, but it is also the location of Sally's Residential

Care Home

– the ideal center for any senior looking for incredible assisted living.

It should come as no surprise that our facility is so highly regarded within the industry. After all, for over ten years, Sally's Residential Care Home has been owned and operated by state board certified registered nurses Sally and Kayhan Mojabi. The two medical experts bring over 30 years of nursing experience from acute, rehab, geropsych and hospital management positions to the facility, including years in geriatrics.

Thanks to the skill and expertise of the Mojabis, our entire team has been trained to provide unparalleled service in all activities of daily life, from light support to daily comprehensive care including dressing, bathing, personal hygiene, and incontinent care. Further still, our staff members are trained in first aid and take frequent trainings by licensed professionals on needs like medication management, delivering personal care and other standard precautions.

Perhaps most impressively, despite these many features, the Mojabis work to keep the assisted living cost at Sally's Residential Care Home as low as possible. They believe that all seniors deserve to enjoy all that life has to offer, and at our facility, they can do exactly that. To learn more about Sally's Residential Care Home and to set up a visit, please give us a call today at 1-805-701-1246.
